🧩 Career Object

I've completed a course on ASP.NET with C#, where I learned to build web applications using technologies like ASP.NET Core, MVC, C#, and SQL Server. I've worked on practical projects during my training and gained a good understanding of how web applications and APIs are developed. I also have basic knowledge of HTML, CSS, and object-oriented programming. I'm now looking for an opportunity where I can apply what I've learned, keep improving my skills, and grow as a developer by working in a professional team environment.
